Generally, no capital gains tax is due on your gift of long-term appreciated securities to Washington Performing Arts. You are eligible for an income tax deduction for the full fair market value of the securities on the effective date of your gift. For publicly traded securities, your deduction is based on the mean of the high and low (or bid and ask) trading prices of the securities on the gift date.

The date of your gift is usually the date on which your account officer irrevocably wires the securities out of your account. (Please note that the date on which we receive or record your gift, and the amount recorded, may sometimes differ from the amount and date on which your charitable tax deduction may be determined under IRS rules.)

Thank you for your generous donation.
